The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm, humid air of the tropics. The ground beneath my feet was a soft, yielding surface, and the air was thick with the scent of pine and oak. I had heard that the weather was perfect, but I didn't realize it would be so perfect. The sun was shining brightly, and the clouds were a beautiful shade of blue. It was a sight I had never seen before, and it felt like I had stepped into a new world. The people were friendly and welcoming, and the food was delicious. I had heard that the people were rude, but they were anything but.
They were warm and hospitable, and they made me feel like I was at home.
The first night I stayed in a small cabin, and the view was breathtaking.
The stars were so bright, and the moon was so large. It was a sight I had never seen before, and it felt like I was looking at something new and wonderful. The people were so kind, and the food was so good. I had heard that the people were rude, but they were anything but. They were warm and hospitable, and they made me feel like
